RECRUITMENT MESSAGE

Date: June 21, 2021

My name is Denise Cornish, and I am a student under the supervision of Dr. Liyan Jin at the College of Doctoral Studies, at Grand Canyon University. The purpose of this study is to examine if there are differences in the extent of technology-related stress between U.S. higher education employee groups.

- You can take part in this survey if you:
 - Are a higher education worker (faculty, administrative, staff, or contractor), working at Western University of Health Sciences.
 - Use technology when performing job functions.

- You cannot take part in this survey if you:
 - Are not a higher education worker (faculty, administrative, staff, or contractor), working at Western University of Health Sciences.
 - Do not use technology when performing job functions.

- What am I being asked to do? If you take the survey you will be asked to:
 - Survey (online – 20 minutes).
 - Willing to answer personal, identifiable demographic questions related to employee group, age, race, gender, and level of education.

Taking the anonymous survey is voluntary. You can leave the study at any time by closing the webpage. Only the answers you submit will be used unless you want to withdraw your participation. If you decide to withdraw your participation, you may do so by going to the end of the survey and selecting “Yes” to the question “I would like to withdraw my participation in the study”. If you withdraw your participation, I will not use the information I gathered from you.

- California Consumer Privacy Act
 - I am obligated to inform you of what data is being collected.
 - I am obligated to inform you of what data is being sold.
 - I am obligated to inform you of who this collected data is being disclosed.

Note: No data obtained in this study will be sold to any other business or company.
